

Commissioners,

Kindly remember that your job is to serve the interest of the people who reside in these United States of America. By paying for my phone service it should afford me the right to decide who is allowed to call me especially with regards to telemarketers. Your job is not to support the interest of businesses to the detriment of my family. You are supporting the interest of businesses in a manner that is unfair when you seek to have new rules imposed that would allow businesses to infringe on my right to privacy. It is also un-capitalistic for my government via your agency to provide any business with unfair, unpaid for access to me when I choose not to grant that access for free. This is suppose to be a free market society. Let us try to work towards free market enterprise. I am an enterprise as well. My access is a service or good that is also potentially available for sale by me.

Thank you,

Patrick.
